LIFE AT ELON

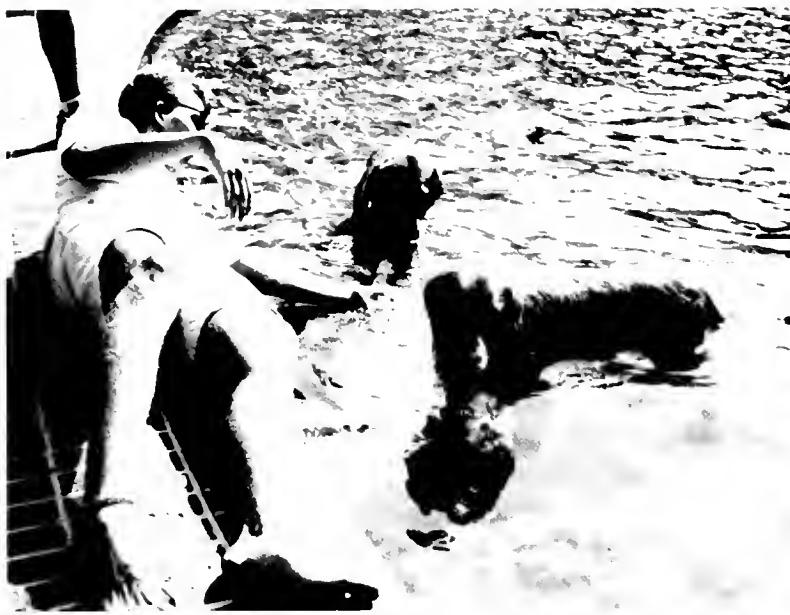

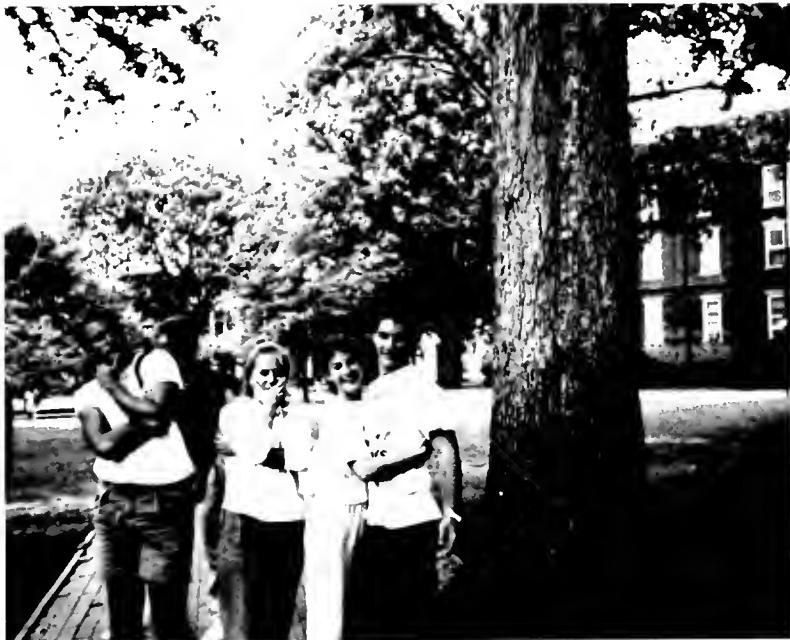

TAKING LIFE EASY

Student life can be hectic. But when there are a few minutes to spare, Elon students use them to relax and hang out — alone or with friends. The Elon campus provides a variety of settings for leisurely strolls, solitary naps, and catching up on gossip.

ORIENTATION

New students move in, settle down and sign up

Orientation means adjusting to a new environment or situation. Elon's 900 new students had four days to do just that. On August 30, the campus came to life as new students and their parents arrived from near and far.

Moving mountains of belongings was the major focus that day, but students and parents took time out to attend meetings. After parents said farewell, students got down to business — unpacking, taking placement tests, meeting advisors and signing up for classes, and making new friends.

MAJOR APPLIANCES . . . A freshman moving onto West Campus believes in moving the most important things first.

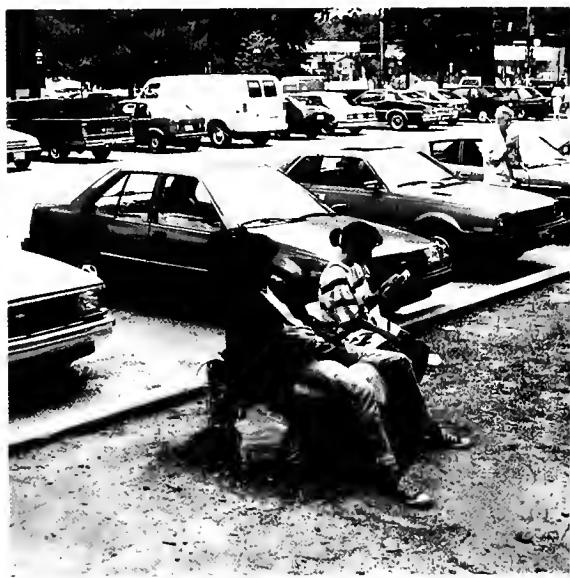

LESSON ONE: LINE UP . . . Students who arrived at peak times found they had to wait in line to receive keys to their rooms.

FIRST STOP, SIGN IN . . . Resident Assistants and Orientation Counselors (right) were on hand for welcoming new students and passing out room keys.

ALL THE ESSENTIALS . . . One student was sure to pack everything she needed for college life.

BREAK TIME . . . Toward the end of a busy day, just any old resting place will do.

PARK IT . . . A family member parks his lawn chair in a shady location while guarding the next load.

HOMECOMING 1987

CELEBRATE!

Students and alumni danced to the tunes of Top Secret at the Student Union Board's Homecoming Dance in Jordan Gym.

Students found different ways to keep warm and amuse themselves during the chilly afternoon game.

Running back Dwayne Clark took the homecoming theme to heart, as he treated football fans to his own style of celebration. Clark and his teammates had reason to celebrate when Elon defeated Lenoir-Rhyne 42-24.

Kappa Alpha's float celebrated the fraternity's return to Elon. The float took fourth place in the parade competition.

Laura Beckett Reigns as Queen

Laura Beckett, a senior business administration major, was crowned Homecoming Queen during halftime festivities on October 3. The president of Sigma Sigma Sigma, she represented Sigma Phi Epsilon in the queen competition.

The Court included Shelli Mackay, representing Kappa Sigma, first runner-up; Krista Lee, Zeta Tau Alpha, second runner-up; Barbara Gordon, Kappa Alpha, third runner-up; and Lori McManus, Alpha Sigma Alpha, fourth runner-up.

In the float competition, Kappa Sigma took first, followed by Sigma Sigma Sigma and Sigma Phi Epsilon (tie), KA and Zeta.

Zeta won the fundraiser competition, followed by KA, Alpha Omicron Pi, Kappa Sigma, and Sig Ep.

In the skit competition, Tri Sigma took first place, followed by Sigma Pi. Alpha Phi Omega and KA tied for third, and Zeta took fourth.

Barbara Gordon won the punt, pass and kick contest, followed by Deborah Coulbourn, Student Union Board.

Shelli Mackay, representing Kappa Sigma, was first runner-up. Her escort is Jay Vorhees.

Despite being surrounded by Lenoir-Rhyne bears, running back Dwayne Clark manages to hang on to the ball for another Elon first down.

Debra Stuart, representing Kappa Alpha Psi, rode through the Homecoming Parade in style, escorted by Darryl Brittain (driver) and Tim Carlton.

Shelli Mackay "surfed" her way through the Homecoming Parade as part of the first place float entered by Kappa Sigma.

Students enjoyed the Homecoming Game, urging the team on to a 42-24 victory over Lenoir-Rhyne.

THURSDAYS ARE SPECIAL

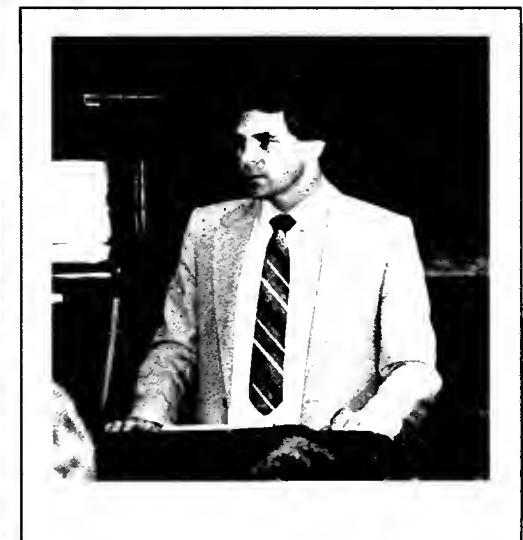

Weekly Coffee is more than free food

Free coffee every Thursday morning — what a deal! But College Coffee, created by President J. Fred Young about 5 years ago, provides more than refreshment. According to Director of Development Tim McDowell, it also provides Elon students, faculty and staff a chance to socialize informally outside the classroom and the office.

College Coffee also provides campus groups an opportunity to showcase programs such as Study Abroad and CROP Walk. Candidates for campus, local and state offices find Coffee is a great place to campaign.

The Coffee is held each Thursday at 9:30 during a one-hour break in the class schedule.

Chapel offers food for soul

College Chapel, held each Thursday, offers fellowship for the Elon community. Though the college is related to the United Church of Christ, chapel services are ecumenical, meaning religious differences are valued.

Chaplain Richard McBride leads the services, with other members of the college community providing prayers and music. "Everyone is invited," McBride said. "Especially those who are looking for spiritual wholeness alongside social and academic success."

Life with the UNITS

Parents Weekend: for two days each fall, the campus springs to life as parents from near and far descend. During the weekend, parents meet with faculty advisors to check their son or daughter's progress. They also are treated to a picnic, a talent show, and a football game. For students, Parents Weekend means cleaning their rooms so maybe they'll be treated to dinner off campus or a shopping trip to the outlets.

At left, parents get a chance to visit their son over a box lunch on the patio.

The Elon Jazzmen, winners of the Talent Show, dazzled the audience and the judges.

Resting in the shade was a nice break.

Professors Robert Blake and Michael Gafigan, top, wait for parents to arrive for their meetings. Dr. Jo Watts Williams, above, greets visitors.

Otis Knight and the Days lip synced to "Under the Boardwalk," to the delight of the Talent Show audience.

Shady spaces were both plentiful and popular at Saturday's picnic lunch.

kind of learning*

A college education is not what it used to be. Today's college curriculum includes experiential education, internships and travel opportunities. At Elon, the Study Abroad program is becoming more popular with each year that passes. Trips to London, the Soviet Union and Spain offer students opportunities to learn what cannot be taught in a classroom.

"It's a different kind of learning," says Chaplain Richard McBride, who accompanied a group of students to Mexico, where they spent Winter Term building a church/community/medical center. Travel offers lessons in history, geography, humanities, and the arts. And those who have participated in Elon's Study Abroad programs say it offers the opportunities of a lifetime.

Lectures, research papers, midterms and finals always will be the mainstay of a college education. But travel opportunities add the spice.

Making friends in Mexico

Learning can take many forms, as students who traveled to Mexico for Winter Term found out. Ten students and two faculty members traveled to Reynosa, Mexico to "build a bridge of friendship." While in Mexico, the students bunked in a church while helping the local citizens build a community center.

The students spent Winter Term wielding shovels and paint brushes instead of books and pencils. According to the participants, it was hard work, but the lessons they learned and the friendships they formed made it all worthwhile.

Sightseeing was a welcome break from the hard work. The group visited the Alamo, above, and while visiting the Mexican city of Monterrey, they worshipped in the church at left.

An angel created by Elon publications designer Carolyn Messick was sent along as a gift to the citizens of Reynosa. The angel now hangs in the church which the students helped to build.

SPAIN

Picturesque is the word to describe Spain, as evidenced in this hilltop view of Toledo.

On a side trip to Africa, students found the local transportation offered a slightly bumpy ride.

The Mijas taxi, above, was economical transportation at about $3 a ride. At left, in the Valley of the Fallen casualties of the Spanish Civil War are buried near a church carved into the mountain-side.

Karen Steward and Ben Draper enjoyed the ferry ride into Africa.

The monkeys at Gibralter were friendly to passers-by, especially when food was offered.

At La Mancha, Ben Draper played Sancho Panza to a sculpture of Don Quixote.

Elon students get a glimpse at LIFE IN THE USSR China and Mongolia

A group of 17 students accompanied by Dr. David Crowe spent a month during the summer touring the U.S.S.R., China and Mongolia. The Study Abroad adventure also included trips to Siberia and Hong Kong.

SLICES Of Life

It was a year for the history books. Headlines ran the gamut from political, financial and religious news to athletic events and weather phenomena. Stars were born, stars continued to rise, and stars died. Slices of Life is a sampling of the events which flavored the year 1987-88.

WHITNEY WOVED US
Rock star Whitney Houston soared to new heights

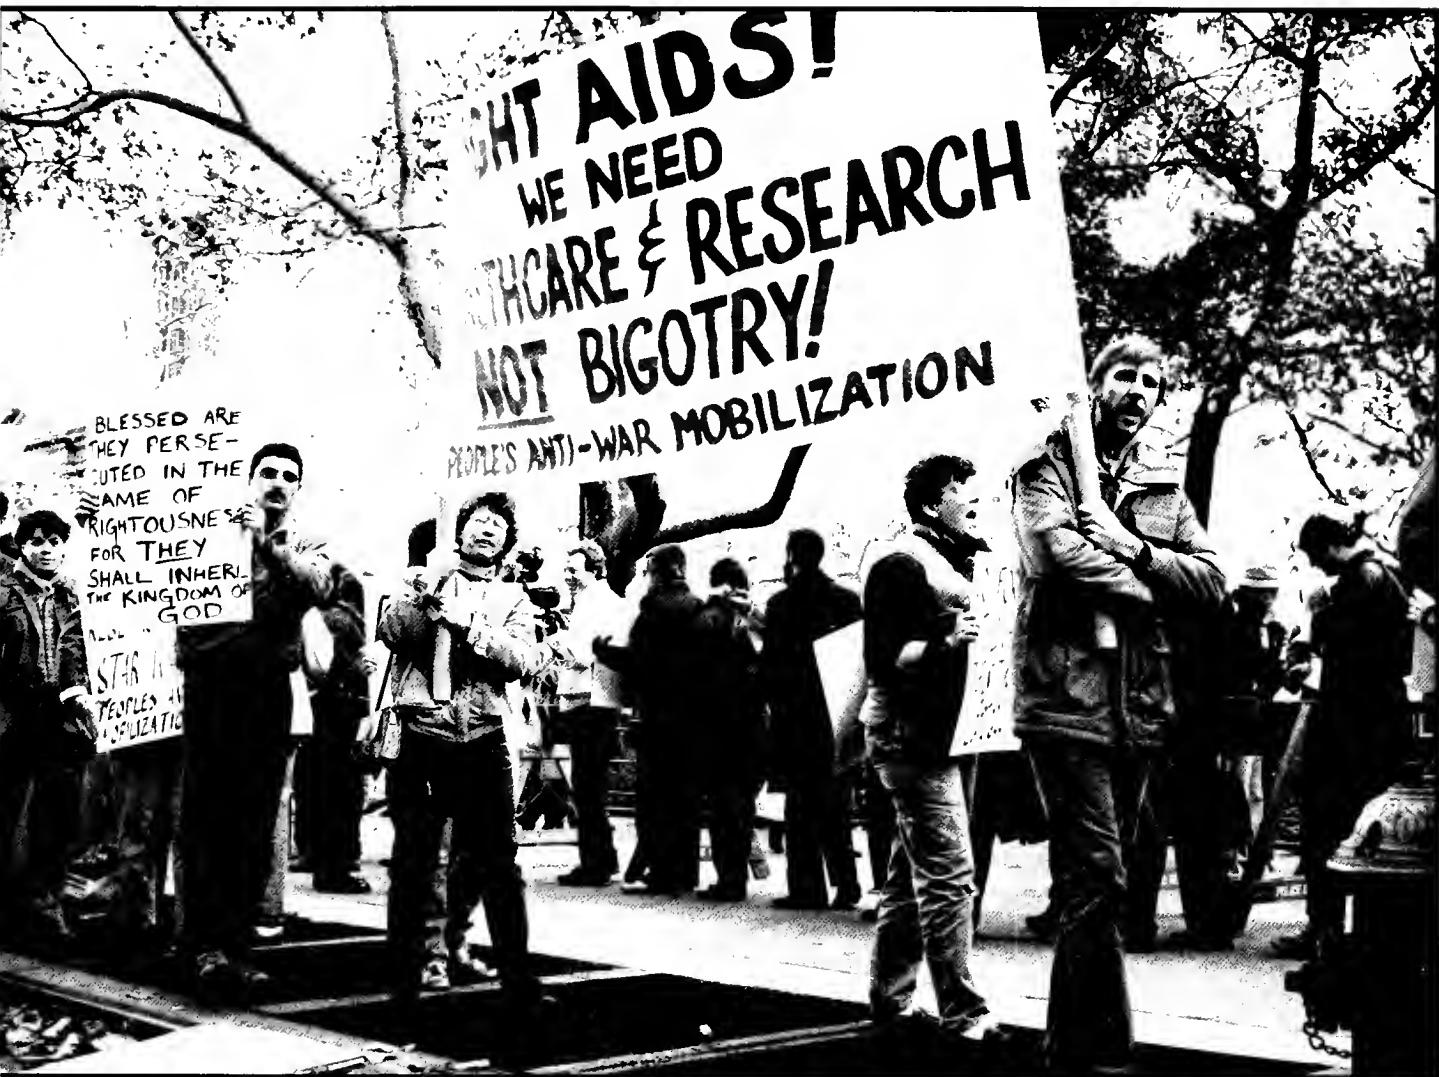

TO RUN OR NOT TO RUN?
Democratic presidential candidate Gary Hart withdrew from the race in October when it was reported he was romantically involved with Donna Rice, a 20-year-old model from Miami. Hart re-entered the presidential sweepstakes in December. Meanwhile, Ms. Rice won a lucrative contract endorsing a line of jeans

THE CRASH OF 87

The Dow Jones industrial stock average dropped 508 points, the largest in history, on Monday, October 19. Some called it a crash, others called it a meltdown, and still others called it Black Monday. Whatever it was, it stripped $500 billion from the market value of U.S. securities.

THE PLAGUE OF THE 80'S

In the six years since Americans first heard of a mysterious immunity-robbing disease from which no one recovers, AIDS has killed nearly 25,000 Americans. Millions of dollars have been poured into medical research, and a national media campaign was launched to educate the public about the disease which President Reagan proclaimed "Public Health Enemy Number 1."

AN AUDIENCE WITH THE POPE

President and Mrs. Reagan greeted Pope Paul II when he arrived in Miami to begin a nine-city tour of the United States, including a visit to North Carolina.

ALL THAT TRASH

A barge filled with 3,128 tons of garbage became a national joke and a symbol of the nation's worsening problem with solid waste management. The barge from New York, looking for a place to dump its cargo, was banned by six states (including North Carolina) and three foreign countries before an incinerator reduced it to ash.

OLIE, BY GOLLY

Marine Lt. Col. Oliver North was a key official in the plan to finance anti-government rebels in Nicaragua with money from arms sales to Iran. In testimony before the Iran-Contra hearings in Washington, North became somewhat of a celebrity, prompting a tongue-in-cheek "Ollie for President" campaign.

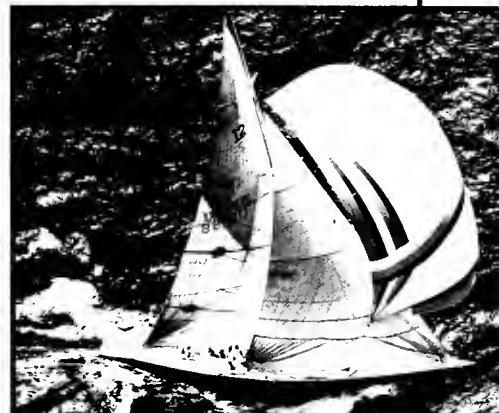

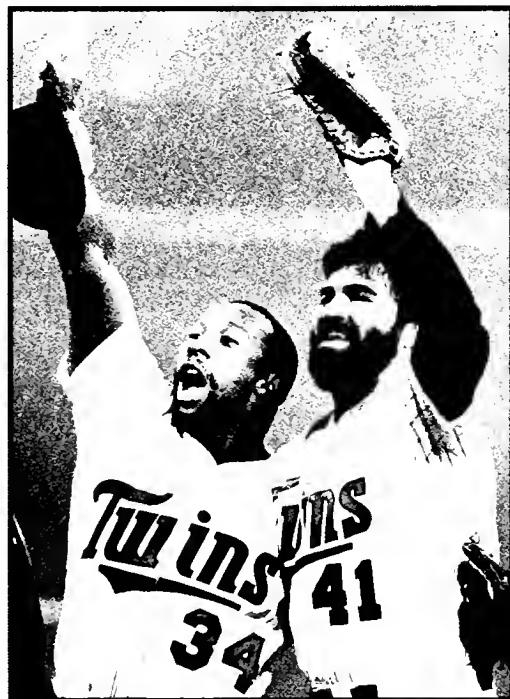

THE HOLY WARS

Television evangelists Jim and Tammy Faye Bakker said farewell to the PTL ministry in March. Tammy Bakker had bowed out of the broadcasts to undergo treatment for drug dependency. After confessing to a sexual encounter with church secretary Jessica Hahn, Jim Bakker resigned, handing over control of the nearly-bankrupt PTL to Moral Majority leader Jerry Falwell. The Bakkers were forced to abandon their PTL-owned home in Heritage, South Carolina, and many of their lavish belongings were auctioned to pay the ministry's debts. Falwell later refused to put control of the PTL back in Bakker's hands.

The Sporting Life

Americans fascinated by sports enjoyed a smorgasbord year. From such faraway places as Australia, where the U.S. yachting team reclaimed the America's Cup, to Elon College, where students, faculty and staff participated in the statewide Olympic Festival Torch Run, the world was full of exciting athletic events to watch and read about. Sports stories moved to the front page with major events such as the NFL strike and the World Series.

Dennis Conner, the man who lost the America's Cup in 1983, won it back four years later, as the Stars & Stripes (above) completed a 4-0 sweep over Australia's Kookaburra III.

Kirby Puckett and Jeff Reardon of the Minnesota Twins (at left) celebrate their World Series win over the St. Louis Cardinals. It was the Twins' first trip to the best-of-seven series.

A 24-day strike by the NFL players ended in mid-October when the union capitulated and went to court instead of trying to fight the club owners at the bargaining table. Meanwhile, "football scabs" took to the field in what were described as both the best and worst football games ever broadcast.

MINING IN THE GULF
In an effort to keep the Persian Gulf open to navigation, the U.S. began in July to escort vessels, protecting them from Iran. In September, the U.S. Navy blew up an Iranian ship that was caught laying mines in the Gulf.

SUPERPOWERS SUMMIT
Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev came to the United States in December for a three-day summit. He and President Reagan signed a nuclear arms control agreement. Gorbachev later was named Time Magazine's Man of the Year for 1987.

Great Entertainers

Among the celebrities who died during the year are, from left to right:
— Fred Astaire, who danced his way to stardom with Ginger Rogers, died of pneumonia at the age of 88.
— Jackie Gleason, the "great one" who scored as a blustering cab driver in the series "The Honeymooners" and hosted his own comedy-variety show, died of cancer at age 71.
— Lorne Greene, who for 14 years played the firm but gentle father to three sons on television's western series "Bonanza," died at 72.
— John Huston, director of such films as "The Maltese Falcon" and "The African Queen," died in his sleep at age 81.
— Liberace, the glittering showman and pianist who captivated fans for four decades, died of AIDS at age 67.
— Lee Marvin, gravel-voiced Oscar winner who died at age 63, was remembered by colleagues as one of the good guys, even though he often portrayed the hard-as-nails rogue.

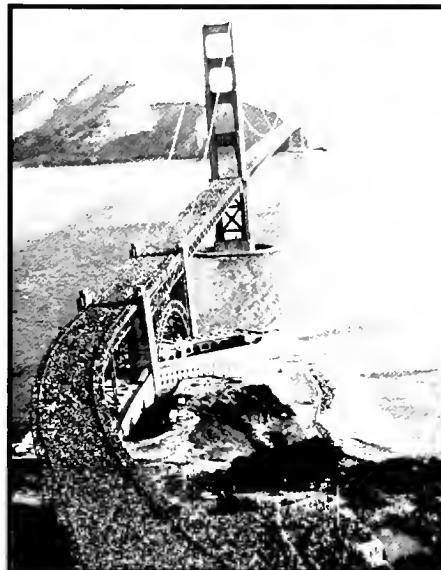

HOME FROM THE HOSPITAL

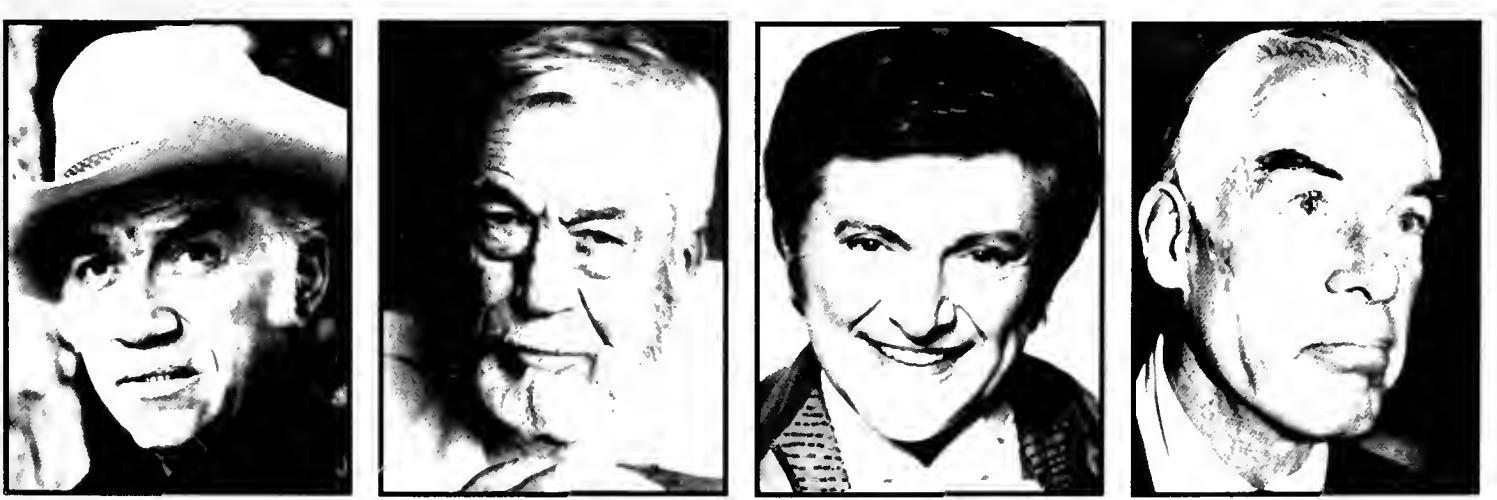

Nancy and Ronald Reagan wave to well-wishers from the South Portico of the White House. Reagan escorted his wife home from the Bethesda Naval Hospital where she underwent breast cancer surgery. Mrs. Reagan's bout with cancer culminated several months of speculation by the media that the First Lady was not well.

THE SENATE SAID NO

Twice within three weeks, President Reagan's nominees for the Supreme Court were defeated, one by the Senate and another by secrets of his past. Reagan's first choice, Robert H. Bork (at right) was rejected by a 58-42 Senate vote, ending a long debate over a judge alternately portrayed as a brilliant jurist and a dangerous extremist. The president's second nominee, Douglas H. Ginsburg withdrew from consideration after admitting he had smoked marijuana while teaching law at Harvard. Finally, an appeals court judge from California, Anthony M. Kennedy, was confirmed as the new Supreme Court justice.

SPANNING 50 YEARS
The Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco celebrated its 50th birthday. About 250,000 people jammed onto the bridge for an anniversary walk across the span. Another 500,000 packed the bridge approaches but were denied access because engineers feared the bridge could not support the additional weight.

Everything old is new again

THE VARSITY GRILLE ... After summer —long renovations that took longer than expected, the Varsity Grille reopened in mid-September. Along with a new look, the Grille offered a revised menu and new personnel.

THE BAXTER HOUSE ... Formerly the home of business law professor Bob Baxter, the stately Baxter House was renovated in the summer of 1986 to provide housing for female students. In 1987-88, it was used as an "honors house" for academically advanced female students.

Eugene McCarthy speaks at Elon

Former Senator Eugene McCarthy, a presidential hopeful in 1968 and 1972, spoke in November, offering his audience criteria for choosing a candidate:

Does the candidate understand the office of President?

Does he have an awareness of important issues?

Does he understand the United States' role in the world?

THE FINE ARTS BUILDING . . . Opening with the start of the school year, the Fine Arts Building soon became a source of pride for the college community. The 77,000-square-foot building, which houses music, art and performing arts wings, carried a price tag of $8 million. The college planned a week of cultural events in September to launch the building. Classical guitarist Marco Kayath, who performed September 10 in the Recital Hall, was the first to appear in the new building. The McCoy Tyner Trio was next, performing on September 13. What would have been the inaugural performance in the Theatre, North Carolina Shakespeare Festival's "Midsummer Night's Dream," was cancelled because the building did not pass a safety inspection. When outlet plates were installed and exit signs lit, a busy cultural season continued.

Elon grad wins teacher of year

Donna Hill Oliver, a 1973 graduate of Elon, was named National Teacher of the Year. Mrs. Oliver spent the year touring the country as an ambassador for education. (See related story on page 192.)

Beatles group performs at Elon

1964, a musical group hailed as the best of the Beatles impersonators, performed in February in the Fine Arts Theater. The major concert of the year was open to students, faculty and staff as well as the general public. Sponsors enjoyed the positive response to the group from an audience composed of all age groups.

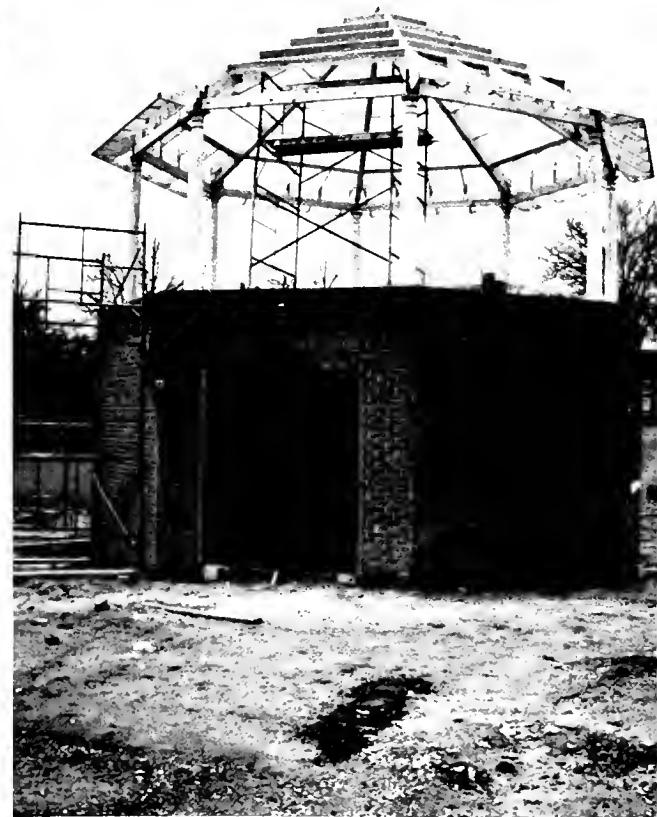

Growing by leaps & bounds

THE NEW TENNIS COURTS . . . The college watched all year long as a vacant field adjacent to the East Building was converted into a championship tennis complex. With 12 lighted courts, the center will be one of the finest among all NAIA colleges and universities in the nation, according to Tennis Coach Tom Parham.

"This will be a tremendous boost to both the men's and women's varsity tennis teams," Parham said. "But the greatest benefit will be to the entire student body, which will have an ample number of tennis courts for physical education classes and recreational uses."

The new courts, funded entirely through gifts to the college, is expected to be complete in the summer of 1988. The new complex, with courts built to U.S. Tennis Association specifications, is expected to be the home of the Tom Sawyer-Huck Finn Tennis Classic, the major tournament in Alamance County.

It was a year of pluses and minuses. Alpha Kappa Lambda, Kappa Alpha Psi and Alpha Kappa Alpha joined the Elon Greek system, but Tau Kappa Epsilon lost its charter for 5 years. The houses were lost, but the new suites were built. Elon Greeks survived the ups and downs, because Elon Greeks are BID CIRCLE — WHERE SISTERHOOD BEGINS . . . Each fall and each spring, the college community gathers around the fountain, waiting for a string of young women to burst through the doors from Alamance Building, running to join their new sisters in Bid Circle. There are smiles, hugs, cheers, songs and tears. The Elon sorority system has welcomed its newest members.

OPEN HOUSE OPENS DOORS FOR FUTURE BROTHERS . . . Each fall, Elon's fraternities gather to recruit new members. Due to a shortage of meeting places, this year's Open House was held at Thompson Court. With each fraternity holding court under at least one awning, the gathering resembled an old-fashioned tent meeting.

AND THE HOUSE CAME TUMBLING DOWN . . .

One Friday afternoon in May, Elon students sat on discarded furniture and watched as three fraternity houses were torn down. The houses, formerly occupied by Kappa Sigma, Sigma Pi and Sigma Phi Epsilon, had been deemed unsafe. Fraternities displaced by the loss of the houses were offered suites in Chandler residence hall. Construction on Greek lodges is expected to be complete by the Spring of 1989.

Getting the most out of LIFE

There's more to college life than going to class and taking tests. Organizations and clubs offer social activities, a chance to make new friends, and opportunities for leadership development.

At Elon, the Organization Fair is held prior to the start of classes each fall to give groups a chance to attract new members. Among the participants in this year's fair were SGA, ROTC, Greek and religious organizations and campus media. Chaplain Richard McBride, at bottom left, used the fair to get starry eyed over the CROP Walk.

Following weeks of training and hard work preparing for the opening of school, the big day finally arrived for Orientation Counselors. Students poured into Elon from near and far. OC's were on hand that day to help students check in. Later, they met with groups of students to discuss what the transition into college life would mean for each of them.

Orientation was not just a day for the OC's. Their work began long before the new students arrived. Counselors prepared mailings and organized materials for the new student packets. Above left, Paulanne Cagle meets with her group of new students. Above right, Amy Cozart fills her packets with fliers, brochures and free samples. Below, Pam Wilkins checks out the materials new students will receive.

International Students Association celebrates Elon's cultural diversity

"Where you from?" is a popular question when college students meet for the first time. At Elon, more and more students are naming foreign countries. The international student population has continued to grow in recent years, with more than 30 students enrolled in 87-88. The International Students Association was formed to assist students from foreign countries feel at home in the US and at Elon. In addition, ISA provides opportunities for sharing of cultural differences. During monthly meetings, students presented programs on their countries, exhibiting photographs, slideshows, native dress, music and art.

Unique friendships develop when people from differing cultures are brought together. Omar Zeitoun from Saudi Arabia, Francine Mason from Liberia, Robbie Cruse from Japan, and Pat Dos Santos from Brazil share a friendly hug at the ISA Christmas Party.

It's showtime at Alumni Gym as Eric Blair sends one in for two points.

Though surrounded by bulldogs, Brian Branson (at left) manages to find the rim. Harry Burrus, below, sends a jumper toward the board.

LEADERSHIP RETREAT

Six Elon students attended a week-long Leadership Retreat during the summer. The retreat, sponsored by the American Youth Foundation, was held on the shore of Lake Michigan. In addition to workshops and educational sessions, the group found time for volleyball and relaxing on the beach. On the way back to Elon, they made a side trip to Niagara Falls. Pictured there, at left, are group members Crystal Morrison, Jeffery Thompson, Crystal Gibson (Guilford College), Marty Weems, Mike Frame and Gordon Rankin. Below left, Crystal Morrison was careful not to overdo her exposure to the sun.

Dedicated to Donna

"Educators must always remain confident that our effectiveness will stimulate and create new ideas. Moreover, we must be determined that worthwhile contributions to society will result from our efforts — contributions that will leave their mark upon the sands of time."

These words summarize the philosophy of Donna Hill Oliver — outstanding educator at Cummings High School in Burlington, North Carolina; recipient of top teaching honors in Burlington; North Carolina State Teacher of the Year; winner of the Jaycees Outstanding Young Educator Award; recognized by the National Science Teachers Association; holder of the N.C. Governor's Business Award in Math and Science; and the 1987 National Teacher of the Year.

This "cheerleader for education" represents 2.5 million public school teachers, having been selected by the Council of Chief State School Officers, the Encyclopedia Britannica, and Good Housekeeping. She received the crystal apple, symbol of the award, from President Reagan in the Oval Office.

Donna Oliver chose the teaching profession because she saw it as a ". . . way to ease the pain of change." Entering Elon College after marriage and motherhood, she received her Bachelor of Arts in biology and then secured a Master of Education degree from the University of North Carolina-Greensboro.

As she travels about the country this year, Donna has endeavored to undo the pessimism which surrounds American education. She believes that "it is working, and we mustn't give up or give in."

Among Elon's living 12,000 alumni, few have achieved such distinction in so short a time.

At left, Donna Hill Oliver, in the center, received the crystal apple from President Reagan. Also pictured are Mrs. Oliver's husband, James, and their daughter, who is the current Miss Black America. At top, Mrs. Oliver was named Outstanding Young Alumna at the Elon College Alumni Association Awards Luncheon during Homecoming Weekend.
